

Columbia College Facilitator Profile Information Sheet

Columbia College is very proud of its faculty and recognizes that the caliber of its faculty plays an instrumental role for many students in deciding whether to enroll in a program at our College. Therefore, Columbia College would like to showcase the education background and experience of the facilitators through a Faculty Profile page on its website. Would you please share relevant information about yourself by filling out this document?

Please consider using the questions as a guide to your profile. You may choose to not answer some questions while providing other relevant information you feel would be more interesting to prospective students.
